Connect your entire staff to receive NDIA membership benefits. The more staff members on your roster—both junior and senior—the better informed they will be and the more value your company will receive. Employees listed on the roster receive their own subscription to National Defense magazine, can participate in NDIA divisions, and will enjoy discounts on meeting fees—all covered by corporate membership. Each individual listed receives a unique membership number, which can be used when registering for meetings. To ensure full value of your corporate membership, any staff not on your roster that are identified as employees of your corporation when they register for events, will be automatically made members and receive benefits. $15 per employee of corporate dues is for a subscription to National Defense magazine.

Current Job/Title/Position. By indicating the job title/position, you help us develop benefits to meet member needs. Please select one that best describes each nominee and place the corresponding letter after each name and address.
