WHAT IS PRECISION STRIKE ASSOCIATION?

Founded in 1988, as a 501(c)3 nonprofit educational Corporation, the Precision Strike Association (PSA) is dedicated to advancing the art and science of precision engagement concepts and technology.

We promote the development of systems and procedures in order to locate, fix, track, target, and attack fixed, moving, and relocatable targets. We recognize that the battlespace management, the network within which it functions and the adjunct command and control requirements are crucial to success of the battlefield. The Association's members are from government, including the military, and the private sector, but it is independent of government or any particular company. The Precision Strike Association has a global perspective and welcomes international participation.

Annual Conferences & Events

Winter Roundtable & William J. Perry Award Luncheon-Winter Roundtable clarifies defense policy and strategies and affords the precision strike community the latest thoughts from the Congress.

Precision Strike Annual Programs Review-Annual Programs Review focuses on review of precision strike weapons systems and capabilities—particularly those in development and procurement.

Precision Strike PEO Forum-The PEO Forum addresses that sub-category of precision engagement capability that is of highest interest to the Host PEO.

Precision Strike Technology Symposium (PSTS) conducts an in-depth review of precision strike technologies—highlighting the most promising next generation precision engagement capabilities.

OUR MISSION

Facilitate communication between leaders in government and the commercial sector that fosters a beneficial exchange of information.

Understand and influence national defense policy and military strategy.

Rationalize required military capabilities with the broad range of available technology and systems.

Advise on the investment in critical science and technology in order to further the effectiveness of precision engagement operations.

Understand and assist DOD in fielding transformational precision strike concepts and technologies, particularly for global strike operations.

Improve the detection and rapid attack of moving and relocatable targets.

Shorten the Kill Chain.

Understand and support value-added reform of acquisition policies in order to reduce development time and cost.

Facilitate understanding and implementation of rapid movement toward networked operations related to precision engagement.

Improve overall capabilities of sensors.

Pursue a range of navigation and guidance options that minimize planning times and provide prudent alternatives in the event of enemy countermeasures.

Integrate proposed strike capabilities within the context of evolving precision engagement architectures.

BENEFITS of MEMBERSHIP

Precision Strike Digest: Quarterly publication covers our most current information pertinent to precision strike issues and Association business. It gives a detailed recap of conference information and speaker highlights. Most of all the Digest puts you in direct contact with industry and military precision strike issues and policies.

Automatic membership to the National Defense Industrial Association (NDIA). NDIA provides a forum for the interchange of ideas and technology between government and industry.

National Defense: One-year monthly subscription to business and technology magazine published by NDIA, reporting defense developments, trends and issues.

Preferred pricing for all meetings and events with both organizations (PSA/NDIA and all NDIA affiliates).

Convenient online meeting registration, contact information updates and membership renewals.

Opportunities for print and website recognition for Corporate members.

Discounted Corporate membership rates for exhibitor space during selected conferences.

Employees of Corporate members have access to the Precision Strike Association's programs and information needed to keep building your company's business.

Opportunities to serve on the Board of Directors setting strategy and vision for the Association.
